

Power Telematics, Inc. Partnership Agreement & Renewal Policy

Power Telematics partners with generator dealers, distributors, and independent service companies. Power Telematics will also work with select direct users who manage and service their own generators. By partnering with Power Telematics, you are responsible for all monitoring equipment and monitoring services sold. Power Telematics will not supply monitoring products or services directly to parties who do not match these criteria. If a monitor is purchased by a generator dealer, distributor, service company, etc., they are the party responsible for the monitoring service renewal. Passing the monitoring service to an end user customer is prohibited.
