

Power Telematics, Inc. Partnership Agreement & Renewal Policy

Power Telematics partners with generator dealers, distributors, independent service companies, and generator owners. By partnering with Power Telematics, you are responsible for all monitoring equipment and monitoring services sold. If a monitor is purchased by a generator dealer, distributor, service company, etc., they are the party responsible for the monitoring service renewal. Power Telematics can also establish a partnership where monitoring equipment and services are sold through a dealer, distributor, or service company, and the end user customer is responsible for the monitoring renewal.
